Motherhood Is Greatest

Career For Women

All the Progressive Ideas of All the Centuries Can Never Change the Laws of Life, Says Ella Wheeler Wilcox. By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

HERE is an interesting letter. It is from a woman, and she says:

Through the wrong-headed ideas inculcated in my youth I have made an awful mess of my life and nearly ruined my husband's life, but at last we have won back our Eden. When I was a little girl I used to draw me to my chifteen. I planned that have me to my chifteen and allowed to my chifteen and allowed to my chifteen. I planned that have the saw of from the which she will chance for real success, or for the control of the my chifteen. I planned that have the saw of the which she has little chance for real success, or for the coward which her whole nature turns. It seems to me the tendency of the drawn of my chifteen the my chifteen that have me the last that she was allowed to marry thinking how I would dress ber not care for her.

If married at 17. I was then studying at an art school and my parents objected to my marrying, as they desired me to have a career, but as my health hroke down in the school leave, and I was ignorant and imnocent and my parents were so unwise in their ideas of life that they considered it inproper for me to visit a young married friend who nourished her bubyin nature's way. They thought it are not intended to my friends present that it is a state of rapture. But as soon as my condition became known my friends researched it as a calamity, my mother who says and my friends present upon me, embittering and child came there was a great uproor. My husband and myself had to make apologies. The opinious of my friends pressed upon me, embittering and child came there was a great uproor. My husband and myself had to make a good wife. We lived in sorrow for many years, but gradually came to a simpler, truer understanding of life in my heart to mercand it was far too nervous to make a good wife. A Hint to Mothers of Growing Children

A Mild Laxative at Regular Intervals Will Prevent Constipation.

A vital point upon which all schools of medicine seem to agree is that normal regularity of the bowels is an essential to good health. The importance of this is impressed particularly on mothers of growing children.

A very valuable remedy that should be kept in every home for use as occasion arises is Dr. Caidwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of simple laxative, herbs that has been greenthed by Dr. W. B. Caidwell, of Monticello, Ill., for more than twenty-five years, and which can now be obtained in any well-stocked drug store for fifty cents a bottle.

In a recent letter to Dr. Caidwell,

ROLAND LEE TURNER.

BEAUTIFUL old story retold; an old song made to live A again in new loveliness, with a new appeal, by the blended strains of the 'cello, piano and violin.

Nevin's "Rosary" will always live and be loved. A beautiful fabric it is, woven of fact and fancy-warp and woof a poignant grief and a melancholy resignation. Delicately these instruments trace the pattern, and spread the tapestry again before you-a rendition that will "still a heart in absence wrung.

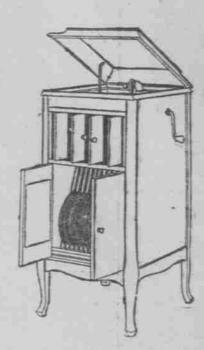

With remarkable fidelity the recording portrays the thrilling manly appeal of the 'cello and the sweet feminine response of the violin-melody and accompaniment beautifully balanced, and delivered with a restraint and dignity that proclaim the Revillon Trio a company of sincere artists.

With exquisite charm there is given upon the reverse of the same disc, Marshall's plaintive melody, "I Hear You Calling Me"-here a "song without words," another story of darkened romance surcharged with deep emotion.

Again we have a delicate harmonization by the same skillful grouping of instruments-piano, 'cello and violin-an arrangement that has never before been used in recording either song. No matter how many times you may have heard these ballads of bygone happiness, you will want to hear them again in the exquisite new rendition-Columbia Record No. A1815. Among the most appealing Columbia successes are these numbers in trio form. The voluminous Columbia Record catalog lists a host of them. Let your dealer play for you such a gem as D'Hardelot's "Because," Columbia Record No. A 1735, 10-inch 75c; or "Love's Old Sweet Song" by Molloy, Columbia Record No. A968 10-inch, 75c.
